WHO ARE “NEW OTHER UNDERGRADUATES”?

“New Other UG” has previously been combined with New Transfer students as a grouping of students who entered the university in a manner other than as a new first-time, degree-seeking undergraduate. Starting in Fall 2017, Freshmen Connection students, previously not officially enrolled students until the spring semester, will be included in official undergraduate enrollment counts. Due to this change, we have separated the New Other UG from the New Transfers. Here are the students included in “New Other UG”:

APPLIED AGRICULTURE: The Institute of Applied Agriculture (IAA) is a two-year, 60-credit academic certificate program in the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources (AGNR) at the University of Maryland, College Park.

SPECIAL UNDERGRADUATE: these are students who are non-degree-seeking or enrolled for a single semester.

FRESHMEN CONNECTION: Freshmen Connection is a fall semester academic program open to students who confirm spring admission. Students may take up to 17 credits of UMD courses and get on track to graduate in four years. Prior to Fall 2017, Freshmen Connection students were not considered officially enrolled in their fall semester.
